Quietly Achieving Record Recoveries for Our Clients

A REPUTATION EARNED THROUGH RESULTS

Raynes McCarty lawyers hesitate to talk about their remarkable results. That's because they're sensitive to the fact that every lawyer's headline has its roots in some family's tragedy. But fellow lawyers who know their record have once again ranked Raynes McCarty first in Pennsylvania for Plaintiff's Medical Malpractice.

A REPUTATION BUILT ON A COMMITMENT TO CLIENTS

For 40 years, Raynes McCarty attorneys have been fighting for families devastated by a profound loss. We represent a limited number of clients and devote extraordinary attention to every one. We do not "handle cases." We represent people.

We have turned some of the toughest legal challenges into monumental victories. We have fought the most formidable opponents – international pharmaceutical conglomerates, industrial manufacturers, airplane and helicopter manufacturers, institutional bureaucracies, hospitals—and emerged victorious time and time again.

A REPUTATION DESERVED FOR DEPTH OF TALENT

Raynes McCarty lawyers have recovered well in excess of a billion dollars for victims of injury. More Raynes McCarty lawyers have been recognized by Best Lawyers in America® and elected to Fellowships in the International Academy of Trial Lawyers, the American Board of Trial Advocates, and the American College of Trial Lawyers than any other trial firm in the state. Annual surveys of the bar consistently rank its lawyers among the very best in Pennsylvania. Raynes McCarty lawyers have led the Pennsylvania Bar Association, Philadelphia Trial Lawyers, and Pennsylvania Association for Justice.

A REPUTATION ROOTED IN PUBLIC SERVICE

The firm's lawyers work tirelessly to improve the law in the legislature and the courts. When Raynes McCarty lawyers go to trial, they often find that the law being applied was shaped in some way by a colleague. That commitment to the public good is reflected also by leadership in countless professional and charitable institutions.

METHODOLOGY

This list is excerpted from the 2010 edition of The Best Lawyers in America®, the preeminent referral guide to the legal profession in the United States. Published for more than a quarter of a century, Best Lawyers® lists attorneys in 79 specialties, representing all 50 states and the District of Columbia, who have been chosen through an exhaustive survey in which thousands of the nation's top lawyers confidentially evaluate their professional peers. The 2010 edition of Best Lawyers, which was published in November 2009, is based on more than 2.8 million evaluations of lawyers by other lawyers.

The method used to compile Best Lawyers remains unchanged since the first edition was compiled more than 26 years ago. Lawyers are chosen for inclusion based solely on a vote of their peers. Listings cannot be bought, and no purchase is required to be included. In this regard, Best Lawyers remains the gold standard of reliability and integrity in lawyer ratings.

The nomination pool for the 2010 edition consisted of all lawyers whose names appeared in the previous edition of Best Lawyers, lawyers who were nominated since the previous survey, and new nominees solicited from listed attorneys. In general, lawyers were asked to vote only on nominees in their own specialty in their own jurisdiction. Lawyers in closely related specialties were asked to vote across specialties, as were lawyers in smaller jurisdictions. Where specialties are national or international in nature, lawyers were asked to vote nationally as well as locally. Voting lawyers were also given an opportunity to offer more detailed comments on nominees.

Voting lawyers were provided this general guideline for determining if a nominee should be listed: "If you had a close friend or relative who needed a real estate lawyer (for example), and you could not handle the case yourself, to whom would you refer them?" All votes and comments were solicited with a guarantee of confidentiality – a critical factor in the viability and validity of Best Lawyers surveys. To ensure the rigor of the selection process, lawyers were urged to use only their highest standards when voting, and to evaluate each nominee based only on his or her individual merits. The additional comments were used to make more accurate comparisons between voting patterns and weight votes accordingly. Best Lawyers uses various methodological tools to identify and correct for anomalies in both the nomination and voting process.

Ultimately, of course, a lawyer's inclusion is based on the subjective judgments of his or her fellow attorneys. While it is true that the lists may at times disproportionately reward visibility or popularity, the breadth of the survey, the candor of the respondents, and the sophistication of the polling methodology largely correct for any biases. For all these reasons, Best Lawyers lists continue to represent the most reliable, accurate and useful guide to the legal profession in the United States.

Weber Gallagher Simpson Stapleton Fires & Newby LLP is a full-service litigation defense firm with twenty specialized civil practice areas designed to cater to its clients' specific needs, including (among others) the following litigation practices: commercial, employment practices, family law, health law, long-term care liability, medical malpractice, products liability, subrogation and recovery, and workers' compensation. Additionally, the firm provides trust and estate services to its many clients. The firm also provides legal counsel and representation to local, national, and international businesses; financial institutions; and insurance companies in the Mid-Atlantic Region.

Long before the economic climate made legal costs a widespread concern, the firm took the approach of partnering litigation strategies with clients' business plans and financial requirements. By having a sharp focus on business goals and seeking cost-effective litigation and alternative solutions, the firm has flourished from just seven lawyers at its 1991 founding to nearly 100 today.

With its strong entrepreneurial approach to case management issues, coupled with the benefit of having some of the top litigators in their field, the firm's clients enjoy highly responsive and effective service and litigation results. This has been a consistent focus of the firm, and result for its clients, throughout the firm's nearly two decades of existence.

SHANIN SPECTER'S PERSONAL INJURY VICTORIES

“The life of a trial lawyer makes the country a little safer one case at a time, one product improvement at a time, one policy change at a time,” Shanin Specter says. “We aren’t legislators. We don’t engage in sweeping changes; we produce incremental changes. But these incremental changes add up.”

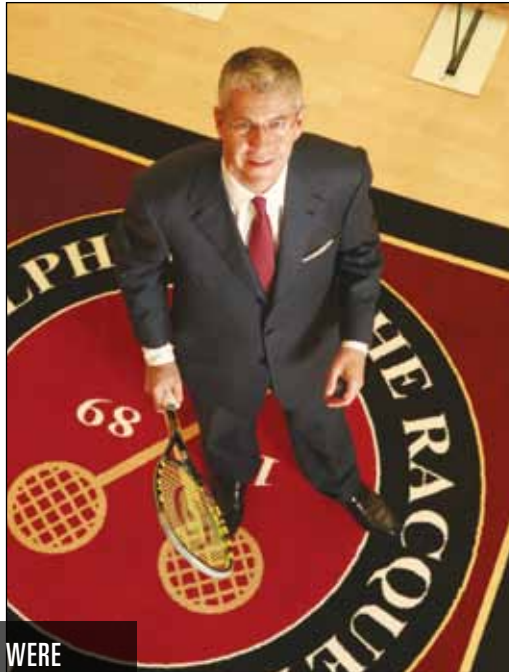

Specter’s impact on individuals and families both in Pennsylvania and beyond can be seen through numerous multi-million dollar verdicts and settlements, plus various changes in law and policy. Specter finds it gratifying to help families of individuals who have suffered catastrophic injury or wrongful death.

“Families who have had a loved one sustain a severe injury need help in every way imaginable from nursing care to income replacement to wheelchairs, lifts and customized vans,” he says. “In these cases, there is someone at fault who needs to be held accountable and responsible for what they’ve done.”

In January and February 2009, Specter worked with colleagues Andrew Youman and Gary Zakeosian to try the case Volutza v. McBryan. After experiencing chest tightness, thickening in his throat, lightheadedness and other symptoms, a pharmacist went to see his internist. The internist diagnosed the man with non-cardiac chest pain instead of possible acute coronary syndrome. The man suffered a fatal heart attack four days later. After a two-week trial, a Berks County jury awarded $4 million to the victim’s family.

“The case was tried in a rural jurisdiction where malpractice cases are rarely successful. The doctor was a well-known, likable and respected member of the community,” Specter says. “But we were able to show the jury that it was important to hold a doctor accountable for his mistakes. The substantial verdict will permit Volutza’s daughter to receive a proper education and will protect her from the economic loss her father’s absence has created.”

In March 2009, Specter and colleagues Kila Baldwin and Dominic Guerrini, helped another family in the case of Blumer v. Ford Motor Company. The team secured an $8.75 million jury verdict for the wife and daughters of a tow truck operator who was killed when the parking brake on his 2002 Ford F-350 tow truck spontaneously disengaged, trapping him underneath.

“WE WERE ABLE TO SHOW THE JURY THAT IT WAS IMPORTANT TO HOLD A DOCTOR ACCOUNTABLE FOR HIS MISTAKES.”

This wasn’t the first time Specter took on Ford. In 2008, Specter represented the family of a three-year-old boy who was killed when the parking brake in his father’s F-350 disengaged. Specter won a $153 million verdict and a $52 million verdict in White v. Ford. The case was settled just before its scheduled third trial in June 2008. Specter asked the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to review the safety of the brakes which were installed in the 1999-2004 F-Series trucks.

In November 2009, Specter secured a $7.5 million settlement against La Salle University for an injured football player. In 2005, the football player suffered a concussion in practice and was prematurely cleared to play again. The man then suffered a severe brain damage in a game. The settlement will support his need for lifelong, 24-hour care. “Many of my clients agree to sign a confidentiality agreement in a settlement because they have no particular interest in publicizing what happened to them, or how much they’ve received,” Specter says. “In this case, my clients did not agree to sign. They did a great service to literally hundreds of thousands of athletes from peewees to the pros in educating them and their families about the importance of following a few basic rules when it comes to head injuries.”

Specter earned a JD from the University of Pennsylvania in 1984 and an LL.M. with First Honors from Cambridge University. The Philadelphia Trial Lawyers Association honored Specter with the Michael A. Musmanno Award. Specter also received the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association’s (now the Pennsylvania Association for Justice) Milton D. Rosenberg Award. In addition, The National Law Journal selected Specter as one of the top ten litigators in Pennsylvania. Specter says that his greatest personal accomplishments are his four daughters. Professionally, it’s the law firm he built with Thomas R. Kline.

“I was recently told that students in a law school class were discussing a hypothetical problem, and our firm name was used to describe the plaintiff’s firm,” Specter reflects, with a laugh. “It was nice to know that we have achieved that measure of immortality. Now we’re part of the lexicon.”

ANTITRUST LAW

Early in his career, Joseph A. Tate, 68, had the option to accept lucrative sales job offers, be a jet fighter pilot in the US Air Force, or attend law school.

He chose law school and became a premiere defender of domestic and international corporations, high-ranking executives, fellow attorneys and other professionals against allegations of white collar crime with emphasis on antitrust, patent fraud, and other regulatory issues.

Tate takes pride in forming personal relationships with the clients he represents, most of whom are repeat clients. He says that the work of his colleagues Stephen D. Brown and Christine C. Levin, his longtime assistant Diane Thompson, and the team at Dechert are directly related to his success.

In 2005, FMC Corporation, one of Tate's oldest clients, faced anticompetitive practice charges in the European Union.

"My team and I went over there and won that case," Tate says. "We were the only American lawyers in that courtroom, and the only team to get an acquittal."

What followed was a four-year legal journey including criminal proceedings and class action litigation. Ultimately, FMC was acquitted, while five other companies were found guilty of price fixing.

"Our client was thrilled with the result, and it was a tremendous achievement," Tate says.

Tate attended Villanova University for both undergraduate and law school. He earned his JD in 1966.

Tate advises new lawyers to think outside the box for solutions to their clients' problems.

"In law school you're taught to look at precedence. Try the opposite and keep your eyes open to new approaches," he says.

FAMILY LAW

Robert I. Whitelaw will tell you that a 40-year career in family law, 25 of which entail managing a century-old law firm, requires energy and a strong ethic.

Whitelaw, 64, arises at 4:30 a.m., goes on a bike ride and arrives to the office by 6:15 a.m.

"Keeping more than 100 attorneys with strong personalities moving in the same direction is challenging," he says, with a chuckle.

Whitelaw earned his JD from the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

He is a fellow with the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, and serves as Vice President, Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers. Whitelaw has been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® since 1995.

He points out four tips to being successful in family law. The first is to avoid getting emotionally involved in a client's case. Second, avoid going in too strong, too soon.

"Coming in as a gang buster usually does not work in the best interests of the client," he says. "Younger lawyers tend not to know that. They think they are gladiators, but gladiators wind up dead on the ground of the coliseum."

Third is patience.

"Family and divorce law moves slowly. If you're not patient, you will drive yourself crazy and give your clients unreasonable expectations," Whitelaw says. "Fourth is humor; you have to be able to laugh."

Whitelaw is actively involved in the community, and has dinner every two weeks with one of his former little brothers in the Big Brothers and Sisters of Philadelphia program.

"My 'little' brother is now 26, and the father of three children," Whitelaw says.

HAINES & ASSOCIATES

Originally founded in 2004 by legal community leader and current Pennsylvania Bar Association President Clifford Haines, Haines & Associates has grown from two to ten attorneys, all of whom carry the same values and litigational prowess as the firm's founder. Under Mr. Haines' direction, the firm's practice has evolved to compliment the collective experience and talents of all of its members, including partners Andrew Chirls, Kathleen Milsark, and James Wells.

This close-knit team of 'lawyer's lawyers' focus solely on litigation, handling a variety of cases relating to intellectual property, professional negligence, business, medical malpractice, personal injury and civil rights. The firm's solid record of successes has made it the place to which individuals, businesses, and other law firms turn for their litigation needs.

The size and structure of Haines & Associates lends it an agility unseen in larger corporate firms—attorneys are able to be creative in their fee agreements and take on clients who would ordinarily not have access to the justice system. "Our lawyers are here because they want to be lawyers. They want to take on interesting cases, advocate for their clients, and go to court," says Mr. Haines.
